

2010 is the year to tell the party bosses NO by voting for an Independent for your U.S. Representative. It is time for the voters of the Third District to put party loyalty behind them and remove a 20 year incumbent named Sam Johnson who did nothing for the last 10 years but dig our Nation deeper into debt by rubber-stamping George Bush's demands for more unfunded legislation. It is time to stop being loyal to parties and to start being loyal to yourself and your families. Make 2010 the year to step outside the party box and elect an Independent!

NEVER UNDERESTIMATE THE POWER OF AN INDEPENDENT

As an Independent, I take courage in remembering that Americans were not nearly as fed up in 1992 as they are today. And yet if Ross Perot had stayed in the race in 1992, the people would have voted an Independent into office as the President of the United States of America. Of course both parties like to play down this possibility, but history indicates that they are mistaken. By the summer of 1992 Perot commanded a lead in the presidential race with thirty-nine percent of the vote, but on July 16, Perot unexpectedly dropped out.

Even after Perot suspended his campaign in July, he remained the choice for president of one out of six voters, who cast their ballots for him any way. Perot earned 19% of the popular vote in 47 states in which his name was still on the ballot that November.

If you choose me as an Independent to represent voters in the THIRD Congressional District of Texas, you will be electing a person who will represent you. You will be electing a person who will forge solutions that will work and without raising taxes. You will be electing a candidate who does not have a scarcity or fear monger mentality. You will be electing a candidate who still believes that the American Dream does not have to be downsized to support corporate welfare handouts. In short, you will be electing a candidate who lives on Main Street—just like you.

Not possible for an Independent to win? Here are the Presidential Election Results of the people of Collin County in 1992. Consider that 1/3 of them voted for an Independent candidate who dropped out of the race four months prior to Election Day. Note: if Democrats had not been the "spoilers", Ross Perot would have won with 53% of the vote.

YEAR	GOP		DEM		OTHERS
1992	47.0%	60,514	19.0%	24,508	34.0%	43,811
